Muskegon, Michigan February 03, 2011- Crystal Images USA, one of the leading American companies in the crystal products industry, has recently added a new feature to their extensive offer of crystal awards, gifts and keepsakes. Custom 3D laser etched crystal gifts and awards are now available for purchase at very competitive prices.

Crystal Images USA is a family owned business which was established in 2004. Ever since, Crystal Images USA has been serving families, schools, churches and business clients with the utmost of professionalism. They provide customers with a wide selection of crystal gifts, awards, memory keepsakes and promotional products. The company employs the latest engraving and laser etching technology to offer the finest selection of custom 3D laser etched crystal products. They also take great pride in being able to offer the finest quality optical and lead-filled hand-cut crystal products available on the market today.

Crystal Images USA offers custom layouts for all their crystal products. Every item purchased from Crystal Images USA, including corporate awards and promotional products, can be uniquely personalized. Their artists are experienced professionals who can develop custom layouts that meet the client's exact specifications. Their proprietary 2D+ software renders an astounding reproduction of images inside of top grade optical crystal. Crystal Images USA guarantees that, once engraved or etched, images, logos or text will not fade.

For their 3D laser etching, the company uses green light laser, which produces the highest quality in laser etching reproduction. Crystal photo cubes, crystal paperweights, crystal ornaments and many more can be professionally laser etched to meet even the most demanding tastes.

Crystal Images USA has some of the most competitive prices on the market today and offers special discounts on bulk orders of 25 or more pieces. The company is dedicated to customer satisfaction and will never fail to provide clients with top quality products, as well as professional customer service.
