There are several ways to watch tv on you your computer from the comfort of your couch or office chair. Whichever one rocks your boat. I've tried different methods like wii, xbox 360, Ps3, even tried Apple TV. Apple TV is cool for those who like to throw money down the drain. Let me be more specific "Down the toilet" but thats not my cup of tea. If it's yours drink it up.

The economy has changed people's perspective of saving a buck or two. I know it has definitely changed mine. I cancelled my contract with my cable company. I'm not going to mention their names because they are not worth my time. I used to pay $59.99 a month for cable channels I didn't watch. That was a waste of money "Down the toilet".

When i lost my job, i started researching of ways to save especially on paying for TV. I guess when you are broke, thats when the light bulb turns on. Well, I must say I finally found a remarkable and genius way to watch TV without the expensive, mind blowing monthly bill!!!!

Mind you there is no cable installations involved, They are not going to make you clean your kitchen twice while waiting for them to arrive between the hours of 9am - 2pm. There are no special hardwares and most of all, the moment we've waiting for "NO MONTHLY FEES". Just like a one night stand after you pay for the one time fee, you never get to talk to them again and most of all no more recurring payments.

I almost forgot to mention YOU HAVE 3500 CHANNELS TO CHOOSE !!! and channels all over the world. Just don't stay up too late trying to watch all of these 3500 Channels.

Here's the website. Enjoy! Satelite Direct Watch 3500 Channels directly on your Computer
