GlobeTrips.com is a brand new one-stop shop for sightseeing tours and tickets to major attractions around the world. We offer great-value tours by coach, by train, on foot, by boat, even by helicopter!

rn

From Grand Canyon helicopter tours in Las Vegas to spooky night-time walks in Edinburgh and our famous Thames and Seine river cruises, GlobeTrips.com has top destinations and worldwide tours to please everyone. And we don't only do tours. GlobeTrips also offers attraction tickets for everything from Madame Tussauds in London to the Uffizi Gallery in Florence as well as trips to major attractions outside the main city destinations.

The idea for GlobeTrips came from our worldwide clients and affiliate partners' requests that we provide destinations and services in addition to those offered by our sister company Golden Tours. And, with the expert help of our London team – whose passion for travel is legendary – a brand new sightseeing tour company was born.

The new GlobeTrips.com is a worldwide website proposing tours, activities, excursions, cruises, tickets and packages, all sourced from tried and tested local suppliers. All our suppliers have been hand-picked to ensure the same level of service and quality as you would expect from our sister company Golden Tours.

So, whether you're looking for that perfect New York tour, a spot of Paris sightseeing or a relaxing Thames River cruise, GlobeTrips.com is the place to be. Our easy-to-navigate city pages make finding attractions and tickets in London, Paris, New York, Las Vegas, Amsterdam, Florence, Dublin and Edinburgh a breeze, while hop-on hop-off city bus tours and rail tours to regional attractions take the stress out of planning your family vacation.

rn

We will be increasing our destination coverage and the number of activities available very quickly over the coming months. So make sure to bookmark GlobeTrips.com and come back often to find out what new and exciting experiences you could have in store on your next GlobeTrip!

rn

Our brand new sightseeing tour company, GlobeTrips.com is open for business, offering tours, tickets and much, much more! Start planning your perfect trip on GlobeTrips.com today with fabulous worldwide destinations that include New York, London, Paris and Las Vegas.
